

admin - Fri, 1/24/2014 - 14:15

The remainderman is the recipient of a trust's proceeds when the trust terminates.

In the context of planned giving, remainderman usually refers to the charity that will receive the final distribution from a charitable remainder trust or pooled income fund. Technically speaking, gift annuity and retained life estate gifts do not have a remainderman because the charity takes possession of the gift assets immediately.

Print

Categories

Charitable Remainder Annuity Trust

Charitable Remainder Unitrust

Pooled Income Fund

Definitions - General Gift Planning