

admin - Thu, 1/16/2014 - 14:27

Consecutive beneficiaries are two or more income beneficiaries who receive income from a planned gift as follows. First, the primary beneficiary receives all of the income. When the primary beneficiary dies, the next beneficiary in line receives all of the income. This pattern continues until the last beneficiary dies, at which time the gift plan terminates.

Print

Categories

Definitions - General Gift Planning