

admin - Thu, 1/16/2014 - 14:25

Concurrent and consecutive beneficiaries are two or more income beneficiaries who receive income from a planned gift as follows. First, all the income beneficiaries split the income. As each beneficiary dies, the surviving beneficiaries split the deceased's share of the income among themselves. This continues until the last beneficiary dies, at which time the gift plan terminates.

Print

Categories

Definitions - General Gift Planning