

admin - Wed, 1/22/2014 - 10:53

Ordinary income property is property that will be subject to ordinary income tax rates if sold by or distributed to a taxpayer. A U.S. Savings bond, for example, is ordinary income property because when it matures, the difference in its face value and the amount the owner paid for it is subject to tax at ordinary income tax rates.

A charitable gift of ordinary income property is subject to deduction reduction rules.

Print

Categories

Taxation